Dear People,

 If your gf/significant other release personal information about your ex's to someone she/he has beef with, remember they hate you. There is two sides to every story and their ex will also know stories which might be damaging to your reputation.

If leaked, things will get ugly. It will put your siblings life and their reputation and stand in society at risk. Karthik Srinivasan's fiancé knew given number of followers I have on TikTok, if Kokki or others decided to release my information, I would have retaliated

Convert to before getting married. So, she might have stole his sister's name or it was his sister who leaked my personal information.

Given the phone number she contacted me from is a Seattle code, she is very likely gotten the number from there. My ex's current gf lives in Texas and works for law department of pharmaceutical company. She said she knew about law very well and threatened me that
